PROFILE

Born in French Polynesia, Tahiti, in 1987, Laurent Xavier DUBOIS has grown up on Reunion Island and has devoted himself to a passion for technique and image for more than 15 years now.

In Paris, where he has graduated as an IT engineer, he has dedicated his spare time to his photography club, photography contests, Fashion shows, agency test shootings as well as many other photography activities of his interest: portraits, urban landscapes, nature in France and abroad. Laurent has now more than 15 years of experience with digital cameras and lighting as a freelance photographer. He has been shooting in his own studio for the last seven years now that he is Fashion and portrait oriented.

Web activist, the young photographer holds a personal blog (WoodyLo.fr) and Instagram (@LaurentXDubois) where he shares some of his lighting techniques and equipment reviews. He has been one of the first French photographers talking about the strobist technique. He had also presented photo equipment and techniques on YouTube for LovinPix. Eventually, all of his Fashion shows have been published on his Fashion blog dedicated to Fashion Weeks (DailyFashionStyle.com).

After two years in Vietnam, Laurent is now back and available in Paris. He also addresses these fields: corporate, interior, hotels, food, wedding (references upon request).
